REMOVING ROADBLOCKS & CREATING PATHWAYS:

Supporting Children with Learning Disabilities / ADHD in the Classroom and at Home

Who Should Attend?

General and special education teachers, school administrators, parents, caregivers and anyone who wants to learn more about helping children with learning disabilities.

For Teachers:

Clearing the Roadblocks: Supporting the Brains of Students with LD in the Mainstream Classroom

This workshop will help teachers become more aware of and able to identify roadblocks. Participants will be equipped to plan lessons that anticipate obstacles and offer compensatory strategies for students.

Featured Speakers:

Allen Broyles, LDA Board of Directors, Assistant Head of School, The Children's School, Atlanta, Georgia

Dr. Scott Hamilton, Licensed Clinical Psychologist and Assistant Head of School and High School Principal, The Howard School, Atlanta, Georgia

For Parents:

Success for a Lifetime: Exploring and Developing Life Success Attributes

This workshop will focus on strategies fostering self-awareness and executive function skills critical for social competence, academic accomplishment and life-long success. The strategies are practical, low cost, and can be used by the entire family.

Featured Speaker:

John Willson, Executive Director, SOAR, Balsam, North Carolina
